

TREC PART 1

TREC, an equine sport which is growing in popularity and has something to offer everyone. TREC GB is the National governing body and you can join TREC GB to support TREC in the UK, to be entered into the National Leagues and to be eligible for qualification for the National Championships.

There are 16 regional clubs at a local level and these clubs provide a variety of TREC events throughout the UK. They often offer reduced entry fees for their members and many clubs will run their own seasonal leagues giving further titles to aim for. People may join as few or as many clubs as they wish; there are no restrictions.

TREC is suitable for all kinds of equines and humans and is great for bond building between them. TREC helps build confidence, produces great all-round equestrians and gives us the opportunity to enjoy some of the most amazing riding in this country. It can be enjoyed at all levels and everyone is welcome.

Well done everyone

TREC is very proud that two of its members finished in the top 10 in the UK of the TREC GB National Winter League: Yolande Ifold – 3rd in the Novice Horse, and Rachel Dixon – 6th in the Novice Rider. Congratulations to both and it is hoped that more members will be inspired to compete in the next TREC GB National Winter League series.

We have been innovative in encouraging new participants and we understand that not everyone has access to transport or can afford to travel huge distances so are happy to bring TREC to your doorstep; perhaps you have a small yard or group of friends who may like us to come along and provide a TREC TASTER DAY. Our clinics and workshops can be completely tailor made and many Riding Clubs & Equestrian Yards have enjoyed our visits. Keep an eye out for one near you or get in touch with us via Facebook <https://www.facebook.com/groups/771568752987692/> or

TREC Riders Club does not discriminate and appreciates that there are a large number of people for whom, sadly, their riding days are over but who would still very much like to be involved with horses. We welcome them onboard too through our free

King Pin membership and offer them, if they wish, the opportunity to train and practice as TREC judges. TREC is blessed with some amazing people whose dedication, commitment and generosity in giving of their time allow each event to happen.

Likewise we always try to have an In Hand class or two at most of our events so that those older or somewhat less agile equines can also take part.

Look out for our editorial in next months' issue as we will be featuring some of our riders, their equines and following their TREC journeys so far.

TREC SOUTHWEST Camp

Earlier this month TREC SOUTHWEST held their annual camp at The Grange Equestrian Centre, Okehampton. This was a change of venue for this year and some riders chose not to come as there wasn't any good hacking close at hand, but those that did come were not disappointed.

The excellent facilities on offer at The Grange meant that Ian Wright could offer daily pole work and jumping in the large outdoor school and escaped the entire week with just one small shower! Meanwhile, in the large indoor school Yolande Ifold and Julie Brand offered each rider daily PTV obstacle training.

Evening quizzes, map reading sessions and even a show jumping competition ensured that there was enough to keep everyone busy when the horses were resting.

Throughout the week riders and horses gained in confidence and it was impossible to choose who had improved the most – congratulations to everyone.

TREC SOUTHWEST would like to thank Ian Wright for his insightful lessons and also the staff of the Grange, who happily provided everything that was required from great food to spare horses when one was sick.

The next event is a full summer TREC at Poltimore House, Exeter. Entries are still open as we need more riders (and helpers!) if you want to know more www.trecsouthwest.com
